Table No. 1 – When can the insurance be purchased?

4. If the premium is received by wire transfer to our bank account, the date of the premium payment is the date we posted the payment.
5. If the policyholder pays the premium with a payment card, we deem the date of the premium payment to be the date when the policyholder's bank authorizes the payment.

§ 5. Insurance period, our coverage – how long does it last?

i Information: You will be covered by the insurance for the period of time specified in your policy.

1. We indicate the insurance period in the insurance document (e.g. in the policy).
2. The coverage, subject to section 3, will start at the earliest on the day following payment of the insurance premium, to which you agree.
3. The policyholder agrees to provide coverage even before the expiry of the period of withdrawal from the insurance contract.

Otherwise, each of these expenses requires a separate insurance contract. Please note that the maximum cost of travel per person may not exceed PLN 45,000.

2. The sum insured is fixed and does not change during the insurance period. However, each time we pay the insurance money, the sum insured gets gradually exhausted.

If we conclude the insurance contract despite missing answers to the particular questions, we deem the omitted circumstances irrelevant.
2. During the term of the insurance contract the policyholder is obliged to notify us of changes in the circumstances referred to in section 1 as soon as the policyholder becomes aware of them.
3. In the event of conclusion of the insurance contract for the account of a third party, the obligations defined in sections above are borne both by the policyholder and you, unless you did not know that the contract was concluded for your account.
4. We are not liable for the effects of the circumstances about which we were not informed in breach of sections 1–3.
